Student Ambassadors act as a liaison between the University of California, Irvine, and high school students across the nation by participating in:

- On-campus admissions presentations
- College fairs
- Outreach yield campaigns

In all of these events, Student Ambassadors represent UC Irvine and the UC System in a positive light, while providing accurate and relevant information and resources for potential applicants.

On-campus admissions presentations require ambassadors to speak before a visiting high school group and present information about UC Irvine and the admissions process in an informative and interesting manner.

At college fairs, student ambassadors are often the first point of contact between a high school student and UCI, thus it requires ambassadors to stimulate interest, provide information, and ensure that the student is familiar with the requirements and processes of applying to UCI.

Outreach yield campaigns occur later on in the year, after applicants have been admitted and are considering various campuses to submit their Statement of Intent to Register. Outreach campaigns consist of on-campus yield events, such as Discover UCI and Celebrate UCI, as well as a phone outreach campaign that connects student ambassadors with a number of accepted freshmen throughout the nation. Yield campaigns are an effort to encourage students to submit their SIR to UCI by initiating contact between a student ambassador and a potential student, which requires the positivity, flexibility, and energy of the ambassador to initiate and maintain communication.

Overall, student ambassadors are given the valuable opportunity to be involved in all stages of a high school student’s application process. From initial interest to the final SIR, student ambassadors are vital resources for high school students considering UC Irvine.
